FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS

DAILY PROCEEDINGS OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE.

Mr Ryan's Bill in Regard to the Negro Emigrants.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 9.—Among the bills introduced and referred this morning was one by Mr. Ryan, of Kansas, admitting, free of duty, clothing and other articles designed for the relief of the colored emigrants.

The Speaker then proceeded to call the committees for their reports of a private nature.

The September Massacre.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—A Calcutta dispatch to the Reuters Telegram Company says: Particulars of the proceedings of the court martial in Cobul on the Afghans who were implicated in the attack on the British residences on the 3rd of September last show that the whole of the fifteen men who have been executed were either concerned in the massacre of Major Covaguari and his staff, in the murder of the wounded soldiers, or had taken part in the treacherous attacks on the British. All the other prisoners were released. General Roberts has communicated with Mohomal Khan at Ghagini.

Defalcation and Suicide.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Frauds on the Produce Exchange to amount of $31,000 have been discovered. The defaulter was Benjamin C. Bogart, who has been Treasurer of the Exchange for many years, and was a highly respected merchant in whom general confidence was felt. Bogart did not appear at the Exchange or at his office after the discovery was made, and died suddenly yesterday afternoon at the house of a friend in this city. It is thought he was unable to bear his disgrace, and that he may have committed suicide.

Wake Superio. Court.

Corespondence of the News.

The business of this court is not arranged as it should be. Five hundred witness should not be required to stand in and around the court house waiting for one to be examined and cross examined and redirect examined. While all this is going on the other five hundred should be at home attending to their business. Their interests require that they should be there.

The profit of the community requires that they should be there. It would greatly decrease the expenditures of the county for them to be there.

Why should one hundred and fifty defendants, perhaps two hundred and fifty be required to attend court from day to day; they cannot all be held in one day. It would be better for them, for the community and for all who have business with the court for them and the witnesses to attend only on the day when they are to be tried.

What is the remedy, who can apply it.

The remedy is to apportion the county by townships and let cases from certain townships be called on certain days.

The Court would suggest to the Justices from each township that they should bind defendants to appear on different days of the term. Such a suggestion would be listened to and acted upon.

The County Commissioners could take the initiative with propriety, for it would save the county thousands of dollars annually. Why is it not done? Echo answers why? There are others who have control of the matter, but more anon. J. H. FLEMING.

Judge Strong's Law School.

Correspondence of the NEWS.

As a former student of Judge George V. Strong's law school, I take great pleasure in saying a word in merited eulogy of the gentleman as a teacher, and of the facilities which his school offers for imparting information to those who wish to learn.

He is a teacher in the strictest sense; gifted in powers of explanation; courteous and kind in manners, leaving no one until thoroughly satisfied that he has grasped the idea, and we unhesitatingly pronounce his school as inferior to none of which we know.

His new class just commencing will consist of fifteen, and as our alma mater we shall note with pleasure the strides toward success which are made by Judge Strong's law school.

From his conceded ability as a lawyer, we can but conclude that the people of our State are much in their own light, not to have placed him long ago in such a prominent station as his attainments fit him for.

No place in the State can offer greater inducements to the law student than does the city of Raleigh, and as an alumnus we cheerfully commend it to those who wish to unravel the intricacies of legal technicalities. B.

What the Utes Cost Us.

Philadelphia Times.

It appears from the documents transmitted by the President to the Senate to-day, in response to a resolution requesting him to furnish the information, that the receipts and disbursements under the agreement between the United States and the Ute Indians, in September, 1873, ratified April 29, 1874 have been as follows: Receipts to June 1, 1879, $129,315.07; expenses for supplies, implements, traveling expenses, etc., $65,289.72, leaving an unexpended balance of $54,025.35. During the same period there has been expended for support of the Utes from annual appropriations made in accordance with the treaty of 1868, $381,003 90, which exceeds the requirements of the treaty.

A Dead and Buried Man Comes to Life.

Geneva Correspondence London Times.

On the last day of November the body of a man who had evidently died a violent death was found in the Sillerthal, Canton Thurgu. The first impression was that he had met with foul play, but the medical experts who were called in thought the wounds were self-inflicted and decided that it was a case of suicide. The body was identified as that of a man named Baumeler, a sawyer by trade and a native of Lucerne. As to this there does not seem to have been the least doubt, but the Amtmann of the district as required by law in such cases, had the fact properly attested and several master sawyers for whom Baumeler had worked, his own relatives and others declared that he was the man whose body had been found on the Sillerthal. The local papers announced his death and his friends were invited to accompany the funeral process to the grave. His kinfolks put on mourning for him, and the deceased, having been a Roman Catholic, was buried in the cemetery of Bischoffzel by a priest of that persuasion. The evening after the interment as a number of peasants and neighbors were making merry in the village inn of Bischoffzel, who should walk in but the man, who as all supposed, had been laid quietly under ground the day before! This apparition at first excited no little dismay, but when Baumeler ordered a plate of sausages, a loaf of bread and a litre of lager beer, the fears of the travelers were appeased. No mere ghost could be supposed capable of conduct so unghostlike. Baumeler who said he had been away on a journey, then heard the story of his death and burial, which seemed greatly to amuse him. From the inn, he went to the Presbytery and thanked the priest for the eloquent funeral oration which the latter had pronounced over his grave. He then called on the Antmann and expressed his gratitude to that functionary for the trouble he had on his behalf. Baumeler has still another account to settle. It appears that he does not enjoy and altogether spotless reputation and after his supposed death a journal of the neighborhood made some unpleasant reflections on his character. Baumeler, it is said, intends to proceed against this too impulsive paper for libel. As to the buried man no information is as yet forthcoming and the theory of the murder is again revived.

An Evening with Bismarck.

A prominent officer who returned from Europe recently tells of an evening he spent with Bismarck. "I thought," said the officer, "that I had seen hard drinkers, but I found during this evening with Bismarck that the drinking men I had met with were tipplers in comparison to this great man. Bismarck had invited no guest for that evening save myself," continued the officer. "After a few moments spent in pleasant chat, Bismarck called the servant and ordered him to bring in brandy and glasses. The glasses were of the smallest size, the same size as the glass we call a pony. I saw there was no water or sugar brought, and when Bismarck poured two glasses full of the brandy I saw it was white, so I concluded that it was a milder drink than the French-cognac, and thought if he could drink it clear I would not be outdone. I took a sip of it, and never in my live did I experience such a sensation. I gasped and strangled a little, but seeing Bismarck toss his off as so much water, I made as little fuss as possible. By slow, careful sips I managed to drink the glassful, but declined to take any more. Well, I stayed during the evening, probably until 12 or 1 o'clock. Bismarck continued tossing off the brandy, one glass after another, and when I left not a drop remained in the pint bottle, which had been brought in full at the beginning of the evening. His capacity for drinking must be something wonderful, for with the exception of his face getting very red, no one would have suspected that he had been drinking at all. His conversation was as clear, and his manner as quiet as at the beginning of the evening."

Reduce Taxes.

Charlotte Democrat.

The government at Washington keeps a flower garden to supply government officers, members of Congress and office holders generally, with flowers in winter as well as summer. No wonder tobacco and other country products have to be taxed when so much money is wasted in furnishing boquets for the officials at Washington, while many of the poor tax-payers can scarcely get the necessaries of life! About the 1st of January there was a big fuss in Washington among "the ladies" of the privileged class in regard to getting government flowers—some contending that others got more than their share. Why not abolish the United States Flower Garden and reduce the tax imposed on the hard working people of the South? The country needs some one to "cry aloud" every day against public extravagance and expose the manner in which public money is squandered by the people's servants.

A fashionable lady of San Francisco attired herself in a party dress, and had a full-length photograph taken. Enveloping her tightly-laced finery in a balloon cloak, she descended to the street, hailed a street car, and seated herself within. When her street was reached she motioned to the conductor and attempted to rise. But so tightly was the poor thing harnessed that she couldn't get up, and blushing scarlet, she told the conductor that she would go a few blocks further. When the terminus of the line was reached and the last gentleman had left the car, the conductor asked her if she wanted to ride back. "No sir," she replied, with sweet simplicity, "I merely want some help, for I can't get up." The conductor set her on her feet, and she walked home a wiser woman.

The Great Unwritten Law.

Washington's Farewell Address.

The alternate dominion of one faction over another, sharpened by the spirit of revenge natural to party dissension, which in different ages and countries has perpetrated the most horrid enormities, is itself a frightful despotism. But this leads at length to a more formal and a permanent despotism. The disorders and miseries which result, gradually incline the minds of men to seek security and repose in the absolute power of an individual; and sooner or later the chief of some prevailing faction, more able or more fortunate than his competitors, turns this disposition to the purposes of his own elevation on the ruins of public liberty!

THE MAINE FEUD.

THE OUTLOOK ASSUMING AN UNPLEASANT PHASE.

Startling Developments Expected---The Military---General Chamberlain in Consultation.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 9.—A dispatch to the Argus says that the Republicans propose to test the legality of the organization of the House and bring the matter before the Supreme Court; one way mentioned being by an injunction to prevent the Treasurer of the State from paying the mileage and salaries of the members.

It is said that Blaine had a violent fit Wednesday night, brought on by overwork. The physicians were with him five hours.

Startling developments are expected when the bribery committee gets to work. The name of the person who paid the money to Swann and Harriman will be given. He is said to be a lawyer from Winthrop.

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—An Augusta, Me., special to the Herald to-day, says that the feeling of doubt and distrust which prevails has increased rather than diminished within twenty-four hours. The military power, though no troops are called out, is becoming unusually conspicuous for Maine.

General Chamberlain is in constant consultation with the civil authorities. General John Marshall Brown, of his staff, arrived from Portland this morning, and other old army officers are expected to-day.

The conference at Mr. Blaine's house lasted until a late hour this morning. Teams were coming and going to and from his house as late as 1 o'clock, and in the State House, just beyond, all was quiet. The principal offices, however, were brilliantly lighted, but no men were visible; though they were there.

At the Augusta House every person who entered or went out, up to 2 o'clock at least, was the object of suspicion and closely watched until his business was known. This morning the politicians are somewhat nervous, and the Fusionists a little panicky—some of them are anticipating a struggle for possession, of which all are eager for the promised bribery revelations.

This morning when the House met no Republican was in the hall, and Mr. Locke was the only one in the Senate. This at once gave a clue to the Republican policy. As soon as the reading of the journal was finished, Mr. Sloan, of Mechanics Falls, rose to a question of privilege, and gave the story of an attempt to bribe him. The name of the accused party is Wallace R. White, of Winthrop—a Republican lawyer.

LATER.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 9.—Early this morning Major-General Chamberlain issued a general order stating that in view of the extraordinary situation now presented at the seat of government, he would assume command and protect the public property and institutions of the State in trust for the people until the Governor's successor has been legally elected and duly qualified. By this order General Chamberlain assumes temporarily the office of the Governor and Commander-in-chief. The entire police force at the State House was changed this morning, those indicated by Gen. Chamberlain taking the place of those that have been drilling there for several weeks. The change was quietly made.

At the opening of the Senate but one Republican appeared and took his seat—Senator Locke, of Cumberland.

The vote on bribery being in order it was reconsidered, and by order laid on the table.

The committee appointed on the gubernatorial votes is composed of seven gentlemen.

The committee on the senatorial votes will proceed at once with its duty. It is composed of six members.

Only seventy-two members appeared in their seats in the House, all Fusionists. The House attempted to exclude all but official reporters, but several were smuggled in.

Thos. B. Swann, of Minot, rose and read a statement that $1,000 had been paid him not to appear at the organization of the Legislature. He stated that the money had been paid him by Wallace R. White, of Winthrop, and that he (Swann) should not claim it.

Mr. Harriman, of Kennebunk, stated that the same offer had been made him by Mr. White.

MODERN MOURNING.

A Conversation Between the Envelope and a Sheet of Paper.

Philadelphia Press.

"Dear me," said the Paper, "I feel awfully queer so stiff round the edges. What is this black band for?"

"Hush!" said the Envelope, "don't you know? Her husband is dead."

"Well," said the Paper.

"Well," said the Envelope, how stupid you are! The black is mourning for him, that's all."

"Good gracious!" said the Paper, "does she do it like this? Do you suppose it comforts her to see a black edge on her stationary? How very funny!"

"It's the proper thing to do, at any rate," said the Envelope, sharply. "You haven't seen the world, evidently."

"But it is not my idea of grief," persisted the Paper. "If I were sad, I would go away from everybody, and keep quiet."

"You are very simple-minded, said the Envelope. "Who would see you if you mourned like that? I knew a widow once who was very angry because she found a card with a wider black edge than her own. She said she had told Tiffany to send the widest that was made, and here was one wider. She almost cried, and measured the edge to make sure. That was grief, now."

"Was it, indeed?" said the Paper. "Well, times have changed, I suppose. Once when a woman lost her husband her eyes were so full of tears that she could not see how to measure black edges. This is the age of reason, I am told. All feeling is treated as weakness and soothed away by ignatia."

"Oh! people feel, I suppose," said the Envelope, a little ashamed, "but, really, there are so many things expected of one now when one's friend passes away that there isn't much time for grief. Just look at our poor lady today. At 9 the undertaker came, upon a matter most painful. It was—well, the mounting on the casket. She was going to have hysterics, but couldn't, because he was waiting her decision. Then the florist came to know about the decorations for the house. Then Mme. Lameau, with boxes upon boxes of dresses, wraps, bonnets, etc, and although our lady did sigh when she saw the deep black—tears spoil crepe, you know, and madam quickly diverted her mind by showing Lisette how to drape the long veil becomingly. Then came the jeweler, with the latest design in jet, and her diamonds have to be reset now, you know, in black claws. After this the mourning stationery was sent with the crest in black, and all sorts of cards and letters had to be written. Then the servants' new mourning liveries and carriage hangings were selected. When dinner was served our lady was so exhausted by all this that she felt faint and ate a really good dinner to sustain life. Now I should like to know what time she has had for grief, poor thing!"

"Don't say no time for grief" said the paper rustling with indignation, "say no soul for it, and you will be nearer the truth. When a Woman can choose bonnets and jewelry, her husband lying dead in the house, there is not much sadness in her heart. I see that she needs the black edge paper to express herself. She might as well give up all this miserable farce and enjoy herself at once. Let her give a ball instead of a funeral, and show her diamonds in their new claws."

"Oh! dear me, do hush!" said the Envelope.

A ball in crepe and jet jewelry; you are not very decent; you don't seem to understand things at all."

"I don't, that's true, 'said the Paper, "and I hope I never will. When women have got to mourning by sending out black edges and wearing the latest things in jet, I give them up. I never shall understand."

"Emotional people always make difficulties for themselves," said the envelope, coolly. "I accept things as are, adapt myself—Hush! she is coming, and crying, too, I declare, after all."

"Well, really, Lizette," said a voice broken with sobs, "you are very thoughtless. How should I remember, in my distracted state, to say twelve buttoned gloves? and here they are only six buttoned; it is too bad. But everyone takes advantage of me now. I am alone—forlorn—desolate," and here the sobs redoubled."

"Poor thing," said the Envelope.

"What hopeless grief," said the Paper," pity her."—Philadelphia Press.

STATE NEWS.

GREENE.

WILLOW GREEN, Jan. 7.—We had a good rain to-day, the best since August last. The weather remains warm.

Trade is dull since the holidays are over and work commenced.

Robert Creech, Esq., who has been the leading merchant of Hookerton for the last ten years, died in that village Monday morning the 4th instant. His disease was pronounced by the attending physician, cirrhosis of the liver. He leaves a wife and three or four children with numerous friends to mourn his loss.

Dr. E. H. Hornaday, of this place, had a novel case in surgery a few days since. A young man reported at the doctor's office with his nether lip bit off. Now you will guess it was bit off by a lass, but not so, it was done by a horse.

Master Charlie Blount killed a deer yesterday, the first the youth had ever had the pleasure meeting on the road.

Balls and parties passed away with the old year.

Mr. Buck Phillips, of Pitt county, fell from a wagon a few days since and was brought home with a fractured clavicle, though is now doing as well as could be expected for a man of his age, being about sixty years old.

We have had a great spirit of moving in this section for the last few weeks, some going to Kansas, some to Indiana, some to Liberia, some to neighborhood farms, and some to the bone-yard.

BUNCOMBE.

ASHEVILLE, January 7.—The weather since the coming in of the new year has been the most remarkable seen at this season in a period of years. It has been as mild and bright as May weather. Strangers in our midst who have never spent a winter with us before think it the grandest climate in the world.

Many persons who have slaughtered hogs this season have had their meat to spoil on account of the warm weather.

The bright weather has been remarkably favorable to one portion of our community, the young and the gay, for at no period of Asheville's history has the place within so short a time afforded the entertainments it has been doing lately. The place seems to have the party "boom."

Among the entertainments that we have had in this line I desire to notice one styled "One Leap Year Party," given by the young ladies of this place. It was a grand occasion and the proverbial idea of leap year was carried out by both sexes to perfection. The supper, as is always the case, was with me the most enjoyable thing, and from the contents of the table one would think that the occasion was gotten up especially for my enjoyment.

Last Wednesday evening the Masonic fraternity of this place held what they styled a "Lodge of Sorrow." The object of it was to commemorate the death of departed brethren. Many of the figures, remarks, etc., were very entertaining and impressive.

When the Lodge of sorrow had closed the alarm of fire was raised in the town, and in a few minutes it seemed as if half the village had gathered at the residence of Mrs. Reynolds to witness only the charred remains of a table which, however, came very near being quite a catastrophe. The accident was caused by the explosion of a kerosene lamp.

On Sunday last, Mr. J[illegible]ed, clerk of the United States District Court at this place, was joined in wedlock to one Miss Sallie Smith, all of Buncombe. Many of the readers of the NEWS are doubtless acquainted with the bride, from the novelty of her name, if from nothing else. The young couple started immediately on a bridal tour. Look out for them, ye people at other points!

On last Friday Mr. M. P. Penland, one of our oldest and most respected citizens died. He had been for a long time a sufferer, and it was doubtless a great relief to him to depart. The funeral services took place at the Methodist church on Saturday at 11 A. M.

In passing through the yard of the marble sculptor the other day, I was struck with the inscription, "N. Blackstock." Being well acquainted with this individual, and not having heard of his death, I was very much astonished, but when I began to make inquiries I found that the venerable man was still living, and that he being conscious of the near approach of death had deemed it but right to make this preparation, but when I inquired a little farther and found that on the very same day he made this purchase he had made another purchase, to-wit: the purchase of a set of false teeth, I only thought how inconsistent the attempted unison of the two ideas, and wondered at the foolish thoughts that will revolve in the mind of the second childhood.

Exodus in Durham.

Chatham Record.

Within the past few days quite a number of negro men have gone from this community to Durham in search of employment. They have doubtless heard of the thriftiness of that growing town and of the fortunes made there by tobacconists, and hope to better their condition also. No doubt they will do better there than those misguided creatures who are joining in the exodus to Indiana. Their departure from this place may make negro laborers scarce, but it may cause those remaining to work harder.

THE DEERFIELD FARMER.

HORATIO SEYMOUR'S ADVICE TO THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

How a Victory may be Won Against the Centralizing Tendencies of Republicanism.

Correspondent N. Y. World.

UTICA, Jan. 7.—Governor Seymour is frank to say that he does not believe in the modern method of communication between representative men and the public known as "the interviewer." He thinks the method has had its day. To use his own words: "It is hard to learn much by interviews. The moment a man finds that his words are to be put in print he becomes as obscure as a Delphic oracle, while in his ordinary conversation he says what he thinks in a clear way. You can usually learn more of men from their friends than from themselves, because their associates gather up the facts from a series of free and accidental talks." Your correspondent admitted that there was force in this position, but there were also the serious drawbacks that a man's friends might not feel at liberty to make his talks with them public and that the people in general might not place any reliance on these utterances. The sovereign people usually like to go to the fountain-head, and especially is this the case with regard to statesmen who have been their leaders in great political contests. This was the position maintained by your correspondent in his conversation with Governor Seymour, and finally I said:

"Governor, the Democratic party is looking to you, as one of its old-time leaders, for words of advice and encouragement. Its members wish you to speak to them, and the press proffers itself as the vehicle for reaching the universal public. It is their desire, and you are not responsible for it. Through the World you will be able to reach the entire Democratic party and gratify all your friends."

To this view of the case the Governor assented, with the understanding that he should speak once for all through the columns of the World. I am thus enabled to give the public a response to the World's questions on the leading topics of the times—a response which contains the views of the foremost of living American statesmen. Governor Seymour spoke as follows:

"In looking over the political field it is evident that on the Republican side there are sharp controversies and much bitterness. The Republicans are in a far worse way than the Democrats so far as fueds are concerned. It is true that the divisions in the ranks of the latter are more open and conspicuous, but they have reached a point where they admit of healing remedies. Hatreds and jealousies in the ranks of political organizations are like erysipelas in the human system—half cured when brought to the surface. Concealed hate and feverish jealousy poison the blood of the Republican organization. The party has no remedy for this state of things. Its disease is internal and therefore dangerous, perhaps deadly. If it could be brought to the surface it might be cured, but now it is festering inwardly and with very bad symptoms. The poison has permeated the whole system and there is no sage so skillful as to be able to prescribe successfully for a hidden distemper.

"On the other hand, there is one great advantage which the Democratic party possess. It always comes up smiling after a defeat. Its vitality is wonderful. It has outlived a dozen opposing organizations, and it has held to its ancient creeds while others have caught at every excitement or novelty brought to the surface by events. In the country especially the Democracy have made their adherance to the sound party principle a matter as personal as their religion—though in a different way. It is a matter on which they have permitted themselves to become enthusiastic. You cannot change them. The hard-fisted Democracy cling to their faith under defeats and trials, and are withal imbued with sentimental feelings never seen in the conglomerate ranks of their opponets. The Republicans fall to pieces unless they can be kept at a welding heat by passion and excitement. If these cannot be kept up against their opponents they break out in their own ranks.

"Under these circumstances there is every reason to hope for the success of the Democratic ticket in the coming Presidential election. The Democratic vote in this State last fall, under the circumstances was a marvelous one. To my mind it amounts to a demonstration that the State can be carried by the Democratic candidates whoever they may be. We have had our fight and it is over. There are no feuds and jealousies left to rankle inwardly.

"There is another element now coming to the surface which will tend strongly to increase this harmony. The town meetings and elections are at hand. About twenty thousand town officers are to be elected, and there is probably an average of three candidates to an office.

"All these men are doing everything that lies in their power to unite the party and concentrate its undivided strength on the town elections. People in the country really care less about who shall be President of the United States than who shall be supervisor of their town or justice of the peace or perhaps school commissioner. They will all vote for supervisor and will work with united energy to secure the election of their party's candidate. This is especially true of the Democrats, much more so, I think, than in the case of the Republicans. The old sores of the Democratic party, as I have said, are on the surface, and therefore not only dangerous but can easily be reached to be healed. Whatever healing process is necessary will, no doubt, be completed by the spring elections.

"As to candidates on the Republican side, the men who have opposed the present Administration appear to favor Grant, and his strongest opponent now is Blaine. The fight is so sharp that it may end in bringing up a new man, as has happened before. The third term is against Grant, and Blaine is too much of a Republican to suit his party. The Republican party does not like violent men in office, though it always praises them for their boldness in the fight. Morton, Chandler, Blaine, and men of that stamp were thrown over in 1876, and the more malleable and less well-known man from Ohio was picked up and made President. Something of the kind is likely to be done again.

"On the Democratic side there is a readiness to take up any man who can unite all factions. As they are all anxious to harmonize, a way will be found to carry out their wishes. Outside of this State Bayard, Thurman, Hendricks, English and others have been spoken of as Presidential candidates, and either of them, I should think, would prove acceptable. The Democracy cannot go astray in making their selection. The man whom they will nominate has every prospect of success.

"The controversies in the Democratic party in New York are much less dangerous than they seem to be. There are great and enduring reasons why this State should uphold the Democratic party and its principles. In the first place there is here much less of sectional feeling than elsewhere. Our business men, merchants and manufacturers are constantly brought into contact with the people of the South in the course of their transactions, whereby they learn the difficulties under which they labor and their desire not only to promote their own interests, but in so doing the interests of the country at large. This intercourse has much more influence than Congressional debates or the appeals in our journals to political prejudice. The same thing is also felt to a degree in religious and other organizations. The war upon the South has been overacted. It has been carried so far that now there is a reaction, and this cannot fail to benefit the Democratic party, which is the party of enlightened conservatism.

There are other and stronger reasons why New York must be Democratic. Its commercial position demands that it shall oppose the centralizing policy of the Republican party. That policy is destructive of the interests and welfare of the State. With its great wealth and population it has the least relative representation in the Senate of the United States of any State in the Union, and all questions of centralization will always be most hurtful to those who have the least representative power and the most wealth to be taxed. The Senate has gradually absorbed political power. It is filled with men of large experiences growing out of the tenure of their offices. They are usually selected after they have had a training in State Legislatures or the House of Representatives. The members control vast numbers of appointments under the General Government. When a question comes up between this State and its rivals, we stand no fair chance of justice.

"Take, for example, the struggle between New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore for the transportation from the West. Those cities are struggling to take away from New York what it once had. If, as is now proposed, the question should be referred to Congress, New York will have but two Senators in the Senate, while the States in which its combined rivals are situated will have sixteen—that is, the New England States have twelve Senators and Pennsylvania and Maryland two each. It is clear enough what the end would be. This is only one of many vital questions which the General Government will decide unless its centralizing tendencies are checked. No one can study the interests of this State and fail to see that its only hope lies in the success of the principles of the Democratic party. If the Republicans are to govern the country and to carry out all their schemes they will check if not destroy the commercial ascendancy of this State. Whatever may be the prejudices of the business men now, they will soon be forced to see that they must uphold the Democratic party.

"There is danger even now that the commerce of the Erie Canal will be broken down and its works abandoned. If this happens New York City and this State will lose the last channel which they control. Yet it would cost us less to keep it up and make it free from tolls than we are now taxed by the General Government to aid other routes and projects in other States, many of which are designed to turn commerce away from us.

"Whosoever will study the interests of New York cannot fail to see that it must be a Democratic State despite the follies or errors of the leading men of that party."

The Coolness of the Germans Towards Grant.

Philadelphia Times.

In last Sunday's issue of the Times the pertinent question is asked: "If the Germans of Ohio and the Western and Northwestern States are solid against Grant, where will the Germans of Pennsylvania be in a Grant contest?" What position the Germans of Pennsylvania will take in the next Presidential campaign, or what influence they can bring to bear upon the nomination of a candidate, may be set down as altogether problematical. But what their sentiments are in regard to the third term question is no secret. Previous to General Grant's arrival in Philadelphia an advertisement appeared in the newspapers calling upon the representatives of the German associations in Philadelphia to meet at the hall of the German Society in order to consider a communication of the "committe of arrangements" about the grand parade. Well, that meeting was held, but very little has become publicly known of its outcome. So decided was the opposition against taking part in the ovation that a motion to adjourn sine die was put and unanimously carried about thirty minutes after the meeting was called to order. No fizzle could have been more complete, and that Grant meeting has ever since been a subject of hilarity.

It is not likely that in the face of so much coolness the German heart can be fixed for a third term.

Supreme Court.

Court opened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, all the justices present.

The consideration of appeals from the First District was resumed and causes disposed of as follows:

J. C. Blount, et als. vs. J. B. Stickney, administrator, from Beaufort; called and disposed of at the instance of the plaintiff.

N. Whithurst vs. J. T. Hyman, from Martin, writ of Certiorari ordered and cause continued.

W. M. Tankard vs S. A. Tankard et als. from Beaufort; called and continued by consent.

State vs. John Perkins, from Camden; called and argued by Attorney General Kenan for the State, and Gilliam & Gatling and J. P. Whedbee for the defendant.

State vs. John Benthall, Jr., from Hertford; called and argued by Attorney General Kenan for the State.

State vs. W. H. Vann, from Hertford; called and set for hearing this morning.

J. W. Watson, et als. vs. Commissioners of Pamlico county, from Pamlico; called and set for hearing to-day.

R. W. Wharton, administrator, vs. Commissioners of Currituck county, from Currituck; argued by Gilliam & Gatling for the plaintiff, and Pruden & Shaw for the defendants.

Jas. H. Wahab and wife vs. Wm. B. Smith, from Hyde, argued by Gilliam & Gatling for the plaintiff, and J. E. Shepherd for the defendant.

M. E. Roberts vs. W. P. Roberts et als., from Chowan; argued by A. M. Moore, for the plaintiff, and Pruden & Shaw, J. P. Whedbee and E. Graham Haywood for the defendents.

Pending the argument in the above last named case, the court adjourned until 10 o'clock this (Saturday) morning.

Bitten by a Hog.

Chatham Record.

We regret to learn that our countryman, Hon. John M. Moring, was quite severely bitten in the hand by a hog a few days ago. He was having some hogs killed, and while stabbing one another rushed at him and bit him on his left hand, from which injury he is now suffering very much, as erysipelas has set in.

THE ANTI-GRANT BOOM.

THE NEW MOVEMENT AGAINST A THIRD TERM PROGRESSING.

A Parent Organization at Albany, with Branches throughout the State.

New York Star, Jan. 7th.

The increasing opposition in the Republican ranks to Conkling and Grant, which has been the occasion of much internal discord, for the past six weeks, has at last assumed definite shape and magnitude. At first the movement obtained but a meagre following in Albany, being mainly confined to New York City, where it had the effect of intensifying the bitterness and widening the chasm between the two local Republican factions. Since the late State election, however, the Republican opponents of Grant and Conkling have been very busy in this country. A private conference of leading anti-Grant and anti-Conkling Republicans was held in Albany on Saturday evening last, when an "anti-Grant Club" was organized, with Morgan L. Filkins as president pro tem, and Thomas B. Mora as secretary. A Committee on Resolutions, consisting of three members, and a committee of five on Permanent Organization were appointed, the latter with instructions to extend the movement into all the counties of the State, and to open correspondence with well-known anti-Grant Republicans with that object. Among other Republicans present were Hon. Ham Harris and Mr. Dawson of the Evening Journal, both of these gentlemen being strongly committed to the opposition to a third term.

A second meeting of the Anti-Grant Club was held on the 6th instant in Martin Hall, when over sixty well-known Republicans were present. The Secretaries reported that the movement had met with the most encouraging success in nearly every county with which correspondence had been opened, and that branch clubs had already been organized in a number of cities. Resolutions were reported, citing the action of the Republican State Conventions in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Iowa, Wisconsin, Massachusetts and New York declaring against a third term, and pledging the Republican party of the State to oppose the re-election of Grant if nominated by the National Convention. Speeches in support of the resolutions were made by Lemon Thompson, Dr. Swinborne and several other gentlemen. All the speakers declared they would not support Grant under any circumstances and predicted the defeat of the party in the State in the event of his nomination. The resolutions were adopted unanimously, after which the club proceeded to organize permanently by electing Mr. Matthew Hall of Albany, permanent President. Mr. Hall was not present at the meeting to night, but will accept by letter, being in full sympathy with the movement. One of his intimate friends to-night informed your correspondent that in his letter Mr. Hall sets forth his reasons for accepting the position and for opposing Grant, and will at the same time give a clear and vigorous statement of the sense of a large and influential part of the party in the State on that subject.

In a conversation with Mr. Filkins, the temporary President, he stated to the Star correspondent that he had carefully canvassed the sentiment of the Republicans of this county on the subject of a third term, and found that it was opposed by the best men in the party. As for himself, he would not support Grant under any circumstances. Blaine or Sherman, or even Washburn, would be more acceptable to the party as a whole, though he doubted whether the last named would stand any chance of success in a national contest. Another meeting of the club will be held on Monday evening next.

Board of Aldermen.

The Board met last night pursuant to adjournment. Quorum present; Mayor Manly presiding.

Alderman Battle offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the recommendation of the Police Commissioner as to the disposition and duties of the police for the month of January be and is hereby approved, and that the Mayor be requested to see that the recommendation is carried out.

On motion the resolution was laid on the table.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the tax-collector be ordered to settle the tax list for the year 1879 with the City Treasurer by February 1, 1880, and to report delinquents to the Board, and that he at once publish a notice in two of the daily papers, calling upon all the tax-payers to settle by the said February 1st, under penalty of having the taxes collected by distress.

The Board then adjourned.

Week of Prayer.

The Union Prayer meeting was held last night at Swain street Baptist church. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Gwaltney, conducted the service, and delivered a most practical and earnest address, and the farther exercises were participated in by Prof. C. B. Fairchild, Rev. Mr. Smith, A. M. McPheeters, Esq., and Rev. Dr. Skinner. Owing to the very inclement weather and the great distance to the church, the meeting was not as large as usual, but it was a pleasant and profitable one. The last of the series will be held to-night at the Edenton street Methodist church. Subject: Prayer for the Home and Foreign Missions, for the outpouring of the Spirit upon all flesh and the conversion of the world.

DAILY NEWS

SATURDAY, JANUARY 10, 1880.

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

THE fire insurance business in New York last year has been carried on at an actual loss. The city companies show a revenue of $10,029,119 to an expenditure of $11,982,070; the State companies $12,058,580 income to $13,856,082 disbursements; and foreign companies $6,487,104 to $7,092,197. That is, for every $100 received for premiums the companies paid out $75,50 for losses and $43 for expenses, a loss of 18½ per cent. on the business done by them.

SOUTH AMERICAN rulers illustrate the force of the statement that nothing succeeds like success. When failure overtakes one of the numerous presidents he leaves the country with all expedition, and never feels safe until he has placed an ocean or two between him and his late fellow-citizens. Peru and Bolivia just now furnish examples of this peculiar feature of South American presidential life, the presidents of these republics having fled their respective counties. The President of Chili thus far feels safe. If a reverse should befall the Chilian army he would feel otherwise.

NEW JERSEY'S finances are in an extraordinarily healthy condition. The State possesses property worth $11,294,171.12 and owes only $2,096,309. The comptroller reported some time ago that the State tax was no longer necessary and that none will be assessed next year. He estimates that the amount required for expenses for 1880 will be $910,000, while the receipts, with the State tax abolished, will be $1,516,657.72, leaving a cash balance of $606,657.72. At this rate, without any tax whatever, New Jersey will soon have her treasury full to overflowing.

THE Republicans of Delaware seem to be determined to have United States Supervisors appointed for each election district in that State. They have probably learned a lesson from the Democrats of Philadelphia, and will have Supervisors selected for the purpose of assessing them five dollars a head for campaign purposes. As nobody thinks of depending on supervisors to prevent election frauds, the only use they can be to any party is to filch a few hundreds of dollars out of the National Treasury, in shape of Supervisor's salaries, to be pocketed by machine politicians.

M. DE LESSEPS, accompanied by a large party of engineers, is at Panama to survey the proposed route of his canal. The survey will have to be postponed on acount of the condition of the Panama railroad, which was so badly damaged by the storm of November 20th to 25th that all travel on it is interrupted. By the flood in the Chagres river the road-bed has been damaged and the great iron bridge carried away. These floods in the Chagress, which are liable to occur any year, were one of the points cited by Mr. Menocal to prove that the construction of a ship canal by the proposed Panama route was impracticable. It is possible that M. de Lesseps may see it that way himself, now that he is on the ground.

GENERAL WALKER, superintendant of the census of 1880, is of the opinion that the result will show the population of this country to be from forty-seven to forty-eight millions. He believes, from facts already in his possession, that there will be found to be quite a large increase of population in the Western States; particularly in Kansas, Iowa and Minnesota. The Southern States will also show an increase, particularly Texas, Missouri, Tennessee and Northern Alabama. He does not think there has been a decline in the population of any of the States. According to General Walker's estimates, three Western and four Southern States will have an increase of representation in Congress.

THE States of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas, says the Petersburg Post, are known as the Cotton States, since the cultivation of cotton absorbs the labor of the husbandman in that region of our country. The total population of the ten States in 1870 was 8,272,223. The close of the war found them impoverished. Their property was destroyed. We of the North next overran them with carpet-baggers who stole from them, interferred with their State governments and oppressed them in many ways. The inhabitants of the Cotton States waited as patiently as they had fought courageously, and at last regained the control of their own affairs. From that time the ownward march of the cotton belt toward the most unprecedented prosperity has not faltered for an instant. The year of 1878 was a prosperous one for them, and they justly rejoiced over the result. For the year ending on June 30, 1879, the domestic exports from the United States amounted in value to a total of $717,093,777. Of this vast sum the ten Cotton States, with their scanty population, are credited with $162,304,250 for their cotton alone. Over twenty-two per cent. of the value of our exportations was received for a crop grown by less than twenty per cent. of our own population

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE third term boom will have to be starched up and done over, apparently. It is showing some signs of flabbiness.

EDISON keeps on lighting his lamps and illuminating New Jersey with a steady and far-reaching radiance, and there does not appear to be any place for humbug to come in. The cost of electric light is what the people want to know now.

IT is believed that Mr. Tilden is pulling wires that lead ex-Governor Bishop of Ohio to jump toward a Vice Presidential nomination on the Democratic ticket. It is thought to be a shrewd movement to disrupt Senator Thurman's following and prevent his appearance in the national convention as a candidate for Presidential honors.

Some Good Sound Sense.

HOW TO RUIN A PARTY.

If a man like Billy Mahone who has just been elected to the United States Senate in Virginia, differs from you upon a single question of paying the State Debt, denounce him in unmeasured terms and brand him as a Radical—in other words, drive him out of the party—if you can! If the negroes in any number vote for him, hold it up as prima facie evidence that he is a Radical, dyed in the wool, although you may have tried to get these same negroes to vote your way and failed to do it.

HOW TO SUSTAIN A PARTY.

If a man like Billy Mahone differs from you upon the local or general questions of State policy, simply express regret over the difference and labor to convince him he is mistaken in his views, but do it in a mild and courteous manner, and at the same time accord him equally as much honesty of purpose and party loyalty as you profess to have. Do not seek to belittle him, nor denounce him as dishonest, corrupt, &c. Instead of laboring to drive him out of the party, labor to keep him in it. Give him credit for being a good Democrat in all the great National principles upon which the party is founded.—Milton Chronicle.

The above allusions to Virginia affairs may be very applicable next summer to public matters in North Carolina. There's going to be some difference among Democrats about spending money by public appropriations and paying salaries to an increased number of State office-holders.—Charlotte Democrat.

Cutting Them Up

Charlotte Democrat.

It is said that the Western Medical Colleges have so much difficulty in getting subjects for dissection, that they contemplate overcoming all difficulties by an abundant supply from the negro emigrants who are now going into Indiana and Kansas from North Carolina and other Southern States. The negro cannot live long in that cold climate, and the Doctors know it, hence the prospect of an abundance of dead bodies for the use of the Medical Colleges of Indiana, Kansas, and other Western States.

Let the deluded freedmen move along West, if they want their skeletons hung up in Medical Colleges and Doctor Shops. Dissectors know that it is hard to get the bodies of white men, but are confident that the black man will furnish an abundant supply. Poor fellow!

No More Hard Times.

If you will stop spending so much on fine clothes, rich food and style, buy good, healthy food, cheaper and better clothing; get more real and substantial things of life every way, and especially stop the foolish habit of employing expensive, quack doctors or using so much of the vile humbug medicine that does you only harm, but put your trust in that simple, pure remedy, Hop Bitters; that cures always at a trifling cost, and you will see good times and have good health. See another column.

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Cough, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.

Knabe Pianos.

Messrs. William Knabe & Co., Baltimore, being desirous of bringing their unrivalled pianos more directly to the attention of the people of Raleigh, have decided to open a few of their most desirable styles at No. 20, Fayetteville street (opposite Tucker's store), for a few days, and would extend a very cordial invitation to all lovers of music to call and examine. Also a fine assortment of the celebrated Smith American Organs will be placed on exhibition. Parties who contemplate purchasing either pianos or organs are especially invited.

Old pianos will be taken in exchange for new, and full value allowed.

Messrs. Knabe & Co. manufacture only strictly first-class pianos.

Kearney's advice to all parties is to "pool their issues." We think a good deal as he does, that we should bury the dead issues of the past. As a healing compound for all issues, sores, wounds &c, there is nothing equal to Henry's Carbolic Salve. Beware of counterfeits.

Guilty of Wrong.

Some people have a fashion of confusing excellent remedies with the large mass of "patent medicines," and in this they are guilty of a wrong. There are some advertised remedies fully worth all that is asked for them, and one at least we know of—Hop Bitters. The writer has had occasion to use the Bitters in just such a climate as we have most of the year in Bay City, and has always found them to be first-class and reliable, doing all that is claimed for them.—Tribune.

Meeting of the Alumni of the University.

The Alumni Association of the University of North Carolina will meet on the 22d instant, at 7:30o'clock, P. M., in the Governor's office in the capitol. The object of this meeting is to perfect the organization and increase the efficacy of the Association. The press of business at the University during commencement week affording scant time for its deliberations, the Association resolved, at the late commencement meeting, "that it would hold an annual meeting also in Raleigh at the same time as the meeting of the Board of Trustees."

By a resolution previously adopted, all persons that have been students of the University, may become members of the Association, and such are hereby invited to attend this meeting.

The Lillies of the Field.

Central Presbyterian.

Wide scattered o'er the pleasant land.
In garments white and radiant, stand
God's sentinels, fresh from his hand,
The lillies of the field.
They never weap, nor toil, nor spin,
Nor even grieve, ner ever sin,
But fair without and pure within,
Sweet praise and incense yield.

Fe neath the daylight's sultry beam,
Or low beside the murmuring stream,
They meekly bow their heads, nor seem
To know of discontent.
No high estate by them preferred.
No voice of sad repining heard,
Sweet, silent preachers of the Word,
To weary mortals sent.

Not treasures rare, nor priceless gem,
Not costly robe with jeweled hem,
Nor royal monarch's diadem,
Nor wealth of India seas,
Can with these humble flowers compare
In spotless garments, soft and fair,
Not kings in all their glory are
Arrayed like one of these.

Sweet, simple lilies of the field,
In you how much of God revealed!
Faith finds a bulwark and a shield
In lessons you impart.
O, teach my will to be resigned,
Instruct my proud and wayward mind
The highest, truest peace to find,
So sanctify my heart.

What the Farmer's Say.

[Extract from an Address before the Halifax Agricultural Club published in the Farmer and Machanic.]

We hear much of the N. C. R. R. system—and my own experience leads me to believe that, by that phrase is meant a system to extract in freights all you make during a year, but if any one can show how any advantages accrue to individuals or State, other than the aforesaid Railroad officials, I shall be pleased to have the following problem demonstrated: Why are we compelled to pay in freight alone more for a barrel of apples shipped from Charlotte to Littleton, than we can buy apples for raised in Michigan, shipped to New York City, thence to Littleton via Norfolk? Western citizens have an abundance of corn that sometimes we would buy, but this blessed (?) "system" adds in freight so much that we can buy Kansas corn cheaper than corn raised in our own State.

One other advantage, and we have presented both sides fairly:

Our public school "system" is a fraud and if we cannot select better representatives it were better for us if we were not (mis) represented at all. If our school system was so changed that we could educate the poor of the State, if we had a free Railroad law, and no subsidies, if we had our convicts at work for private parties, paying into the State a revenue instead of being an expense, we might soon reach the position that as a State North Carolina is entitled to. When this is done, and it will be done, what a proud future opens up for this grand old commonwealth.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS,

The Scourge of Mankind. Old Methods of Treatment and Remedies a Failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this country. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP.

BREAST AND LIMBS CURED.

Messrs WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs —— of ——, Dr. —— of ——, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1st last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of CUTICURA entirely healed it, and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc.,
STEPHEN CROWELL.
NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

CURED IN ONE WEEK.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER:—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day.

VEST POCKET CURE
25 DYSPEPSIA 25
CLERGY & DOCTORS TESTE

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C. I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.) It is indorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va. Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney. LL. D., Col. Va. It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people. It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperient without nausea.

Rev. B. F. Woodward, P. E., Na. Conf. About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Failing in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev. Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va. I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For prostration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va. It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in familie from indigestion. I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate. This remedy is of tried virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our "National Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.

Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists. In Raleigh, by

Drug Store for Sale,

A Rare Chance for Investment.

Wishing to give my whole attention to the lumber trade, in which I am about to engage on a larger scale than ever before, I offer for sale on terms to suit the times the following valuable property in Cary:

I.

MY PLUG TOBACCO FACTORY, in a BRICK building 50x80 feet, 3 stories high, the lower story being two large store-rooms. The Tobacco Machinery is new and has a capacity of manufacturing 1,000 lbs. per day. The factory has been worked a year, and a good beginning for a trade has been made. The building and the machinery will be sold together, or separately to suit purchasers.

II.

GRAIN MILLS,

in a 3 story brick building, 28x40 feet. Two Wheat Mills and one Corn Mill, new and complete with a capacity for grinding 100 bushels of wheat and 100 bushels of corn a day, and can compete in quality of flour with any mills in the State. The mills have had a very large local patronage during the past year. They are driven by a 60 HORSE POWER STEAM ENGINE, improved, of the make of Talbott & Sons, Richmond.

Attached to the engine is also a 60 Saw CORTON GIN and power press, at a safe distance (about 100 feet) in a different lot. The engine has a brick smoke-stack 60 feet high, making the danger from fire the least possible and the rate of insurance very low.

III.

Several well built and handsome residences, with lots and gardens of about 1 acre to each dwelling. They are wooden buildings, 2 stories high, with from 5 to 7 rooms each, situated in desirable locations in the village.

Besides these, 4 one acre lots, with cottage buildings of 2 rooms.

TERMS: One-third Cash; balance on reasonable time.

Judge Strong's Law School.

We call attention to the card of Judge Strong, and especially to that portion which refers to his law class. Judge Strong has no superior as an instructor, and Raleigh furnishes more advantages to the student than any other place in the State. The present session commences under most favorable auspices, there being fifteen pupils in attendance. Now is the time for persons who desire to study law to enter.

The National.

We publish a double column advertisement of Street's National Hotel which is one of the most attractive in this paper. The National, under its present management, is second to no hotel in the State and has some advantages over all the others. Its location is most desirable, being immediately opposite the Capitol square and it is the only hotel in the city with fires and gas in every room, all of which front on the street. The only second class feature of this popular hostlery is its reduced rate of fare, which is not by any means the least of its recommendations. That the National is appreciated is fully attested by the large increasing patronage bestowed upon it by the traveling public.

What Physicians at Home and Abroad Think of the Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Anæmia, Nervous and Muscular Debility, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dysmenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Amenorrhœa, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder and such like organic or functional disturbances, I know of no remedy upon which I can rely with more certainty of satisfactory results than the "Seven Springs Mass."

W. F BARR, M. D.,
Abingdon, Va.

I have found no one single remedy to yield such satisfactory results as the "Seven Springs Mass." In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Anamia, Chlorosis, and for Chronic Eczema, I find it invaluable, associated with appropriate topical treatment.

GEO. T. HARRISON, M. D.,
New York City.

From my experience with the "Iron and Alum Mass," I believe it will prove the best medicine we have in use, for chronic diseases.

G. M. D. PATTERSON, M. D.,
Eaglewood, Texas.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the, Bladder, Leucorrhœa, etc., the "Seven Springs Mass" seems to act with almost specific effect.

E. O. GRIGSBY,
DeView, Ark.

We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application. The reputation of the remedy is too widely known to waste words upon its character. In ordering from druggists always mention Seven Springs Mass. Price $1 per package or six for $5, sent by mail, postpaid.
